

Gary Saitowitz Scholarship

Gary Saitowitz is an accomplished entrepreneur who is aware that education is certainly the most critical and integral element of career success. However, the expenses involved in pursuing higher education in the United States seem to go up every year and numerous students are finding it difficult to support themselves independently without any assistance. Taking that into account, he has founded the Gary Saitowitz Scholarship with the objective of assisting one deserving student in reducing the stress and overall financial burden of costly higher education.

Gary started the scholarship because he understands that most students are not able to afford the costly post-secondary education on their own. Even those students who had considerable college savings plans can realize that they are not capable of fulfilling all their unique requirements. Gary Saitowitz Scholarship is a merit-based, performance-oriented and a one-time award.

Gary Saitowitz has acknowledged the fact that the total expenses involved in attending a university or a four-year public college can be $20,000 for every academic year. Moreover, students who get an opportunity to pursue a private college education can spend as much as $30,000 for every academic year. Higher studies in the United States are certainly an expensive proposition and it is understood that costs are bound to escalate. As the cost of higher education is rising continuously, it is of pivotal importance for students to look for diverse kinds of financial assistance. To rise up to the occasion, the Gary Saitowitz Scholarship was established.
