

Department of Home land Security Hiring Event

There is a hiring event going on now with the Department of Homeland Security. They are seeking high school to and recent graduate students for job opportunities in Human Resources, Finance, Readiness, Security and Acquisition. This is an opportunity for them to hire the best and brightest among the Nation's students and recent graduates.

They are committed to building a diverse workforce with millennials who will bring enthusiasm, innovation and unique perspective to the workplace. Students can begin as Interns; receive a salary for their work; while they are attending high school or college. They will be exposed to opportunities for professional and personal growth that are not available anywhere else in the federal government.

The department of Homeland Security is calling on those who want to help protect American interests and secure our Nation. DHS Components work collectively to prevent terrorism; secure borders and our transportation systems; protect the President and other dignitaries; enforce and administer immigration laws; safeguard cyberspace; and ensure resilience to disasters. We achieve these vital missions through a diverse workforce spanning hundreds of occupations.
