

Honoring Traditions: Creative Works In Commemoration of Robert Thrower

August 12, 2017

Poarch Band of Creek Indians

Powwow Grounds

Jack Springs Road

Atmore, AL

Attention All Artists — Tribal or non-tribal

In conjunction with Gail and Robert Thrower's Memorial, all interested artists can display one piece of work at the old schoolhouse, Poarch Creek Powwow Grounds, on August 12, 2017 from 1:00 to 5:00 pm.

Specifications:

- Works displayed are for EXHIBITION ONLY — no jurying, no public sales, no prizes.
- Two or three dimensional pieces in any medium are accepted from any age group. All two dimensional pieces must be framed and the artist must provide an easel for its display. Limited space is available.
- Short poems or other creative writings are accepted. Written works are limited to one standard letter size sheet and must be framed.
- All registration forms MUST be completed and received by the Poarch Band of Creek Indians Cultural Department no later than 4:00 pm on Monday, August 7, 2017. Registration forms and images may be emailed to traditionalarts@pci-nsn.gov or delivered to the Poarch Creek Cultural Department.
- Artists must deliver their work to the old schoolhouse beginning at 9:00 am. Work must be picked between 5:00 and 6:00 pm. The Poarch Band of Creek Indians is not responsible for any damage incurred during the exhibition.