March 2010

Buford L. Rolin
Tribal Chairman
tlancaster@pci-nsn.gov

This year is already off to a very busy start. We, thankfully, survived record low temperatures and look forward to a pleasant spring season.

As we are in the midst of celebrating our successes it is important for us to stay focused on the long and prosperous road ahead. We, your Tribal Council, have had the opportunity to have our voices heard at the state capitol in regards to various important issues affecting our enterprise endeavors. We are satisfied that we are making headway within the state.

We also hosted our annual Legislative Event in Montgomery during the month of February. This annual event gives us an opportunity to communicate with our State Senators and Representatives in a comfortable and entertaining atmosphere. We were well represented by our Pow Wow Club, Medicine Tail and Princesses who were there to volunteer and perform for the attendees.

In closing, I just want to inform you that with this issue we will once again publish a monthly newsletter. I look forward to being a part of the work that continues to make our Nation stronger with every passing day. Until next month, MVTO.

Fred L. McGhee

Fred L. McGhee First Generation Indian Descent Scholarship Program

Submitted by Sandra Hiebert, Education Director

The Poarch Band of Creek Indians is excited about the opportunity to serve you through the Fred L. McGhee First Generation Indian Descent Scholarship Program. This is a wonderful chance for the Tribe to assist you in making your dreams a reality.

To streamline this process as much as possible, we now have only one application for first generation Indian descent students. As you complete the application, you will note that there is a section entitled "Leadership, Honors and Community Service Activities." Each applicant will be judged on the basis of the information given here and elsewhere in the application in order to determine a qualified candidate to receive the Fred L. McGhee Memorial Leadership Scholarship. This information will also be used to assist us as we rank other applicants who may be selected for general scholarships.

Please read the scholarship paperwork closely. It is very important that you complete each section in its entirety as we will not process any applications which are incomplete. If you don't already have a sealed copy of your official transcript(s), obtaining one should be your very first priority. These transcripts may be included in your application packet, or they may be sent directly to the PCI Education Department. An official transcript is one that arrives in a sealed envelope, received directly from school personnel, often bearing the seal of the registrar. You may hand deliver official transcripts, but they are not to be opened. We will not accept transcripts which are faxed, photocopied or sent in opened. All transcripts must arrive by the stated deadline and must be official! Read all instructions carefully to ensure your application is complete. Incomplete applications will not be considered. No one will call you to remind you to submit necessary paperwork or to tell you that you have omitted items. It is your responsibility to see that letter(s) of recommendation and official transcripts reach the Education Department before the deadline. If you have any questions about what is acceptable, please call us prior to the deadline.

Applications will be accepted beginning February 1, 2010. The deadline for returning applications is 5:00 pm, CST, April 23, 2010. Awards will be announced as soon as practicable after the application process has closed. Please keep in mind that should the funding source for this program end, and no replacement funding source be located, this program may be terminated by a vote of the Poarch Creek Indians Tribal Council.

Scholarship applications are posted on the Tribe's official web site at www.poarchcreekindians-nsn.gov. If you do not have Internet access, you can pick up a copy at the Education Department or contact us and we will send you the information via U.S. Mail.

Once again we appreciate your interest in this program. Please feel free to call me at (251) 368-9136 x 2020 or email me at shiebert@pci-nsn.gov if you should have any questions about the First Generation Indian Descent Scholarship Program.

Pow Wow Club Places in Battle of the Plains

Submitted by Alex Alvarez

The Poarch Creek Powwow Club placed third at the Battle of The Plains Youth Powwow in Bartlesville, Oklahoma the week of January 22, 2010. This powwow is only open to Native American youth dance troupes.

The kids competed as individuals, and also received points collectively. All the kids who participated did a great job. Kaylee Cox, daughter of Theresa Rutherford, was selected as head female dancer for the entire powwow as well.

I would personally like to thank all the parents and family who continue to support their children and the organization. If you see a member of the powwow club, tell them how proud you are of them-your words go a long way! Mvto!

Why Keep Aspirin By Your Bedside

Submitted via email from Teresa Thomas

There are other symptoms of a heart attack besides the pain on the left arm. One must also be aware of an intense pain on the chin, as well as nausea and lots of sweating, however these symptoms may also occur less frequently. Note: There may be no pain in the chest during a heart attack. The majority of people (about 60%) who had a heart attack during their sleep, did not wake up. However, if it occurs, the chest pain may wake you up from your deep sleep. If that happens, immediately dissolve two aspirins in your mouth and swallow them with a bit of water.

After you take the aspirins, do the following immediately:

- Phone a neighbor or a family member who lives very close by
- Say "Heart Attack!"
- Say that you have taken 2 aspirins
- Take a seat on a chair or sofa near the front door and wait for their arrival and...
- DO NOT LIE DOWN

This information has been reviewed by the Health Department and has been approved for publication.

 NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING **

Mal Moore Speaks at Sports Banquet

Mal Moore
Director of Athletics, University of Alabama

The Sports Banquet, an annual event held by the Wellness & Activities Authority to recognize Tribal high school athletes and the athletes who participate in the annual NAYO tournament, was held Friday night, January 29, 2010 in the Coosawada Ballroom at Wind Creek Hotel & Casino.

Mal Moore, Director of Athletics at The University of Alabama, was the guest speaker for the event. Moore's vision of elevating the athletic facilities to a premier status has resulted in the total renovation of Coleman Coliseum, the refurbishing of Bryant Hall into a student-athlete academic complex, and the building of new tennis and soccer complexes. Coaching football for 31 years, 22 of those at Alabama, has allowed Moore to work with a diversified field of people, from fellow coaches to former players, to fans and the business community. Alabama capitalized on that background, and Moore's popularity, by naming him as Associate Director for External Affairs in 1994. A native of Dozier, Alabama, Moore married the late Charlotte Davis Moore of Tuscaloosa on July 20, 1968; they have one daughter, Heather Cook of Scottsdale, Arizona and two grandchildren, Anna Lee and Charles Cannon.

Moore spoke to those present and encouraged the young athletes to believe in themselves and to do what they know is right. "Stay focused; prepare yourself to make a difference in your life and in your community. Strive to be the best student and the best athlete you can be. One of the most important things you can do is believe in what you think, no matter what others may say or try to get you to do. Believe in yourself and you will know what is right and you will do what is right."

Following Moore's presentation, the two NAYO teams and coaches were recognized (both teams were undefeated and brought home the championship title), followed by the recognition of high school athletes and the local principals and high school coaches. The banquet concluded with the announcement of the 2009 Athlete of the Year. This year there were seven (7) student athletes vying for this award:

- 1) Madison Brooks, daughter of Pam and Reed Brooks of Pearland TX. She is a sophomore at Pearland High School where she plays soccer and volleyball.
- 2) Jon Dean, son of Kim and Jimmy Dean of Atmore, AL. Jon is a senior at Escambia Academy where he plays baseball, track, weight lifting and football.
- 3) Kalan Hammett, the son of Sharon and Randall Hammett of Altoona, AL. Kalan is a senior at West End High School where he plays varsity football.
- 4) Jacob Rackard, son of Trina and Kevin Rackard of Atmore, AL. Jacob is a senior at Escambia County High School where he plays varsity baseball, varsity football, as well as playing on the NAYO baseball team.
- 5) Chelsey Ramer, daughter of Debra and Jamie Ramer of Atmore, AL. Chelsey is a freshman at Escambia County High School where she plays softball, volleyball, and basketball.
- 6) Brooke Tullis, daughter of Emily and Bodie Tullis of Walnut Hill, FL. Brooke is a junior at Northview High School where she participates in cheerleading and plays softball.
- 7) Mollie Williamson, daughter of Pam and James Williamson of Fairfield, CA. She is a senior at Rodriguez High School where she plays girls varsity tennis.

Each nominee was called forward and recognized for their outstanding athletic achievements. Jon Dean was selected as the 2009 Athlete of the Year.

Congratulations to all our young athletes.

2010 Census

IDENTIFY YOURSELF AS POARCH CREEK

The 2010 Census will be a snapshot of our nation's population-capturing our changing and diverse America in this fleeting moment in time. But this historic event will do more than tell us who we are as a nation today; it will affect your community's future, your country's future, and your future.

For your convenience, we have included a sample Census Form. Each Census Form allows for census information on multiple members of the same household. On the first page you will be asked for information about Person #1. The Tribal Council has requested that each Tribal Member identify themselves as Person #1 on Question #5 and mark American Indian and print Poarch Creek Indians as the enrolled or principal tribe on Question #9. You must provide census information for each person in your household; please identify all Tribal Members, regardless of age, as American Indian and print Poarch Creek Indians as the enrolled or principal tribe. (Question #6 for all household members except Person #1.) Ethics Corner

LEADERSHIP VALUES

and ETHICS

Carrie Martin • Ethics Chair

Within our organization we have many leaders; Tribal Council Members, CEO's, Administrators, Directors, Managers, Supervisors, etc. Each of these individuals have different responsibilities in the overall success of the Poarch Creek Indians.

A leader can be defined as one who rules, guides or inspires others, one who influences a group of people toward achievement of a goal, one who goes first and leads by example, so that others are motivated to follow him. To be a leader, one must have followers. To have followers, one must have trust. How do you win their trust? Why would others trust you? Most important, are you worthy of their trust?

A lack of trust of their followers is a problem in many workplaces. If a leader does not identify their values in the workplace, the mistrust is expected, since the people do not know what they can expect. If a leader identifies and shares their values, then trust of the followers can be created. However, a leader who says one thing and does another will damage trust, possibly forever. Leaders know what they value and the importance of ethical behavior. They exhibit both their values and their ethics in their leadership style and actions. A leader's ethics and values should be visible in their actions each and every day.

Workplace ethics take the same route. If the organization's leadership has a code of conduct and ethical expectations, they become a joke in the organization if the leaders fail to live up to their published codes. Leaders that exhibit ethical behavior powerfully influence the actions of others.

Whether you are a leader or follower ask yourself if you see some of these attributes in the leaders of PBCI.

Ambition, Competency, Individuality, Respect, Dedication, Loyalty, Honesty, Teamwork, Accountability, Stewardship, Empathy, Courage, Wisdom, Influence, Compassion, Friendliness, Generosity, Dependability, Flexibility, Optimism, Persistence, Equality, Dignity, Learning, Independence.

As a leader choose the values and ethics that are most important to you, that you believe in as well as defines your character. Live them each and every day so that others may see. Living your values is one of the most powerful ways for you to lead and influence others.

Copies of Ethics Code, advisory opinions, complaints may be obtained from the Chairman's Office, Tribal Court, as well as the Legal Department.

Tribe Receives Lifetime Achievement Award

The Atmore Area Chamber of Commerce presented the Lifetime Achievement Award to the Poarch Band of Creek Indians on February 4, 2010. Below is a summary of the speech made by Chamber past President Cindy D. Lee during the presentation.

This award is presented to the Tribe based on its help and involvement with various community organizations including the American Red Cross, YMCA, Relay for Life, United Fund and the Chamber to assist with educational programs, youth sports, emergency services and quality of life services for young and old—all given without desire for self recognition or gain. Not only is time dedicated to these efforts but financial resources are given as well. The Tribe has accepted the responsibility of being a worthy and wholesome partner in our community. As a business leader, the Tribe has had a vision for our community and promoted that vision to assist in the creation of economic opportunities and jobs for our citizens. From farming to manufacturing to recreation and entertainment, the Tribe has had a part in all of these endeavors and has been successful in each. Hard work and determination has brought the Tribe national recognition.

The lineage of the Poarch Creek Indians in this country traces back to before Atmore was a city, before Alabama was a state, and before the United States of America was a nation. Throughout decades of challenges, the Tribe has prevailed to be successful in uniting a community in history and heritage and tradition while striving to enhance the lives of all people in our area.

This presentation this evening cannot begin to acknowledge all of the contributions, challenges and successes that the Tribe has experienced or what the future holds. The Tribe is nationally known for outstanding cultural contributions; receiving national manufacturing awards; hosting a recreation site that enhances natural resources; providing health care and quality of life programs, and promoting educational opportunities. One individual could not possibly be responsible for all of these accomplishments. But there are many individuals throughout the years whose personal contributions and actions have cumulatively resulted in success for their people.

Thus for these and countless other contributions to our community, it is my honor on behalf of the Atmore Area Chamber of Commerce to present the Lifetime Achievement Award to the Poarch Band of Creek Indians.

Shadaland Day Care Closes

Shadaland Day Care, owned and operated by Teresa "Shada" Thomas has closed. Shada and her sister Beverly "Bell" O'Barr would like for everyone to know that they will dearly miss the children and families of Shadaland and that each child was special to them and each was a part of what made their world go 'round. "With the passing of our mother Bessie "Sweet" O'Barr, we felt it was time to turn our focus in another direction; Shadaland just would not be the same without her."

A new day care has opened in the former Shadaland building but this day care is not affiliated with Shada, Bell, or Shadaland.

WWTP ARRA Project Complete

by Josh Thomas & Gayle Johnson

The ribbon cutting ceremony for the new Waste Water Treatment Plant was held on Friday, January 22, 2010. The ceremony was attended by representatives from the Tribal Council, State Representative Harry Shiver, PCI Utility Authority and staff, IHS, EPA, CIEDA, Martin Construction, Thompson Engineering and local community members.

Buford L. Rolin, Tribal Chairman opened the ceremony with a welcome speech. "This event is a momentous occasion for the Tribe and the surrounding communities. This facility could not have been made possible without the commitment of the Tribal Council, Indian Health Services and the Environmental Protection Agency and others who have been instrumental to the success of the project." Richie Grinnell, Indian Health Services, spoke of the Tribe's commitment to its Tribal Members and surrounding community. He also stated that this project was the first ARRA (American Recovery and Reinvestment Act) project to be completed through IHS and that it has set a high standard for others to measure up to.

Brian Smith of EPA spoke to those present and stated that he is amazed to see how the Tribe has grown and improved since the opening of the West Side Tank & Well in 2008. He stated that the Tribe is environmentally conscious and while EPA's role was minimal with this project, it was a great achievement. Eddie L. Tullis, Utilities Authority

Vice Chairman, spoke on behalf of the Utility Authority and expressed how he hoped the Tribal Council; Utilities Authority and staff; CIEDA, who was responsible for project management; Tribal Government, Tribal Administration; Martin Construction, the Tribal Member owned business that constructed the facility; and Thompson Engineering, the company responsible for the design and the scope of the project; should be proud of this accomplishment and what it means for Tribal Members and the local community. Robert Thrower, Cultural Director/Tribal Historic Preservation Officer, closed the ceremony with an invocation and blessing of the plant. After the blessing of the plant, guests recessed into the new Operations Building for refreshments and fellowship; a plant tour was offered and many accepted the invitation.

Planning and Design began back in mid to late 2008 when the Utility Authority, Tribal Council, CIEDA, and Thompson Engineering first became involved. The immediate need for the new plant was due to recent growth of the Tribe and the plant was designed for future growth as well. After extensive research and consideration, it was collectively decided that the Sequenced Batch Reactor (SBR) type of an activated sludge plant would best fit the Tribe's needs and growth while producing a treated wastewater product that was second to none. The total cost of the project exceeded $4 million dollars, with EPA awarding $333,000 from ARRA stimulus funding for the Operations/Control Building that was administered by IHS.

LEGAL UPDATE

Submitted by Venus McGhee Prince, Attorney General

I wanted to take this opportunity to update you on several legal matters affecting your interests as tribal members. If you have any questions regarding any of these matters, please feel free to contact any of your Tribal Council members at (251) 446-1140 or me at (251) 368-9136 Ext. 2525.

Recent Tribal Legislation

Constitutional Amendments and the Election Process

The Tribal Council is seeking to improve the election process and to obtain your input regarding any proposed constitutional amendments on the election ballot. Thus far, the Tribal Council has approved the placement of two Constitutional amendments on the 2010 election ballot: (1) one amendment would require the Tribal Council to provide you the General Council notice of any proposed amendment at least thirty (30) days prior to the Tribal Council's vote on the authorizing resolution; and (2) the other amendment would increase the size of the Election Board from three (3) to (5) members.

The Tribal Council also made several changes to the Election Ordinance to address the recent Constitutional amendment requiring a run-off election for Tribal Council officer positions, to amend certain provisions regarding walk-in voting and absentee ballots, and to clarify deadlines for the election challenge and appeals process. All election voting, including both walk-in voting and regular voting on election day, will be held at the SAIL Center.

State Anti-Gambling Efforts

As many of you may have read in the news, the Alabama Governor's Task Force has been attempting to raid and shut down many non-Indian gaming facilities within the State. State law enforcement has no jurisdiction over gaming on Indian Lands. Federal law governs Indian gaming, and we are in full compliance with all federal laws regarding gaming.

Significant Court Cases

Amy Bryan v. PBCI Election Board

As previously reported, Amy Bryan appealed the Election Board's decision denying her challenge to the 2009 election in Tribal Court. The Tribal Court held a hearing on the challenge on December 18, 2009, at 9 a.m. The Tribal Court did not grant Ms. Bryan's request for a jury trial and denied the Election Board's motion for sanctions against Ms. Bryan's attorney. The Tribal Court has not yet ruled on the challenge itself.

An Active 4-H Club

St. Anna's and PCI Host Winter Talk 2010

Submitted by Lee "Lavan" Martin

St. Anna's Episcopal Church and the Poarch Creek Indians were buzzing with excitement when St. Anna's parishioners and PCI staff members hosted Winter Talk 2010 January 16-19, 2010. Winter Talk is an annual gathering of Native American Episcopalians from Native American Episcopal Churches on Indian Reservations throughout the United States, including Canada, Alaska, and Hawaii. It is usually held on northern or western US Indian reservations, but this year the planning committee voted to come south, specifically to St. Anna's and the Poarch Creek Indian Reservation. Over 90 Native American participated in the gathering.

Such a gathering at Poarch was not possible without the assistance of the Poarch Creek Indian who provided assistance with accommodations, transportation, cultural events, and a visit and dinner with PCI seniors at the SAIL Center. The group arrived at Pensacola Airport on Saturday, January 16th and were bussed by Holy Cross Episcopal Church Pensacola to the Diocese of the Central Gulf Coast where they were treated to refreshments, collected and transported to the Wind Creek Hotel and Muskogee Inn and finally to St. Anna's for supper.

On Sunday the 17th, the group gathered at St. Anna's for breakfast and a traditional Indian church service with the Holy Eucharist, followed by a brunch, meetings, and a buffet supper at Wind Creek. The Rt. Rev. Phillip Duncan, Bishop of the Central Gulf Coast Diocese, and Tribal Chairman Buford L. Rolin addressed the group during the Sunday afternoon meetings, along with Tribal Council Member Robbie McGhee, who was a great help throughout the gathering. The main topics of the gathering were domestic poverty and the increase of suicides and gang activities on Indian Reservations.

Meetings continued at St. Anna's on Monday, followed by a tour of the Reservation, cultural demonstrations by the Calvin McGhee Cultural Management Authority and dinner with Tribal Elders at the SAIL Center.

Although St. Anna's is an all inclusive Episcopal church, all parishioners are proud to serve as a host for Winter Talk 2010. As most PCI Tribal Members know, St. Anna's is the foundation of the Poarch Creek Indians. St. Anna's records proved to the federal government that Indians existed and lived under its own leadership in Alabama.

The Poarch Creek Indians have come a long way since missionaries came to the assistance of Indians living in the Poarch area under poverty conditions in 1928. These missionaries, assisted by local Indians, built two churches that served both as churches and schools.

St. John's in the Wilderness was built in what was called Poarch Switch and St. Anna's was built in Hedapeda. As more churches moved into the area, St. John's was closed but St. Anna's continued to function as a viable church. St. Anna's also deeded land to Escambia County for an elementary school that was subsequently deeded to the Tribe and on which is now the PowWow grounds. In addition, St. Anna's facilities were used by the Tribe until administrative offices were built.

Winter Talk planners had heard so much about St. Anna's and the Poarch Creek Indians that they wanted to come and see for themselves the success both have enjoyed since 1928. Considering their reservations, they were amazed and highly impressed with both St. Anna's and the Tribe and the progress both have made. Participants left for the Pensacola Airport on tribal busses, Tuesday, January 19th, marveling at what they had seen and heard.

As Tribal Members of the Poarch Creek Indians we should all have this same pride and thankfulness that we had leaders with the foresight to put us on the path to success.
