In 2002, EJ Dalius decided to explore new business opportunities and launched CORE, which stands for Cash Out Real Estate. CORE's inception as a unique membership-based organization was brought about by utilizing the AAA model. Throughout its time in operation, CORE accumulated more than $10 million in sales. Eric J Dalius is a Philanthropist to the Core

Eric Dalius is a man with a strong will, and he is willing to give up everything in order to accomplish his goals. He has received high acclaim for his vision and dedication. He is driven by big dreams and big goals. He never compromises on quality. He values people who share his characteristic drive. Thanks to his goal-oriented spirit, Eric has achieved great success in the marketing field. Eric J. Dalius graduated from the marketing program at Penn State University. He realized the importance of post-secondary education. Because college was an important part of launching his career, he wants to help a deserving student achieve similar success.

Eric J Dalius is a philanthropist at heart, and he thinks that the high cost of college attendance should not be a barrier to being successful in the marketing industry. Because tuition fees average about $10,000 in-state and more than $25,000 for out-of-state students, Eric J Dalius wants to help partially fund these expenses. Dalius knows that many bright students hail from disadvantaged backgrounds, so he wants to do his part and help pay for college fees. This is why Eric J. Dalius came up with this amazing grant of $1,000 for a deserving applicant every semester.

An eligible Eric J Dalius Grant applicant must be a high school senior (must show proof of acceptance into an accredited US college/university or a college freshman, sophomore or junior, currently attending an accredited US college/university).
