

HOLISTIC MANAGEMENT INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS
Provide More Training in Regenerative Agriculture

The scholarship fund we raise are for training farmers and ranchers currently practicing Holistic Management or who plan to do so in the near future.

Scholarships are both needs-based and merit-based and may be full or partial funding. By offering scholarships, we hope to achieve greater diversity in the community we serve (age, race, sex, geographic location, etc). We are very proud to announce we have scholarships that has been set aside specifically for people of color. We encourage interested applicants to apply. We award approximately $10,000 worth of scholarships to farmers and ranchers each year.

Scholarships can be applied to any of the following HMI training programs:

- Getting Started Online Learning Series
- Individualized Distance Learning
- Whole Farm/Ranch Business Planning
- Whole Farm/Ranch Land Management
- Beginning Farmers & Ranchers

Application Process

If you would like to be considered for a scholarship, fill out the Scholarship Application Form by the program scholarship deadline. We will let you know whether you are awarded the scholarship the day after the scholarship deadline. Be sure to note which training program you are applying for on the application form. Please be detailed in your answers.

You will receive a confirmation to let you know we received your scholarship application. If you do not receive the confirmation, please contact us at hmi@holisticmanagement.org.

Preferred Criteria:

- Prior farming and/or ranching experience
- Past leadership experience
- Successful completion of a previous training or educational program
- Some previous knowledge of Holistic Management
- Willingness and ability to share what you have learned with others in your community

Scholarship Application is located at <https://holisticmanagement.org/scholarships/>.

HMI Women's Agricultural Leadership Scholarships

At HMI we believe that the regenerative agriculture movement is an equal opportunity employer because we are all working to create local sustainable food systems that feed our families and communities. Nature has shown that diversity is a critical piece for a healthy functioning environment. The need for more women to take a leadership role on our farms and ranches as well as in our communities has never been greater.

So HMI has made a commitment to support the growth of women's leadership in the agricultural industry. Whether you are a female farmer/rancher, land owner, or government agency/NGO personnel and you want to increase your knowledge about a holistic approach to regenerative agriculture, we have resources to help you develop your leadership and management skills.

If you want to improve your leadership skills, we encourage you to learn more about how HMI has worked with hundreds of women farmers, ranchers, and agricultural educators to help diversify the regenerative agriculture community. If you need assistance to participate in one of HMI's programs below, we encourage you to apply for a Women's Agricultural Leadership Scholarship to attend one of our training programs:

- Getting Started Online Learning Series
- Individualized Distance Learning
- Whole Farm/Ranch Business Planning

- Whole Farm/Ranch Land Management
- Beginning Farmers & Ranchers

HMI has 20 female Certified Educators trained to work with female agricultural producers and educators, to facilitate Holistic Management and help grow the new diversified workforce for 21st century agriculture.