AAPT Barbara Lotze Scholarship

AAPT was established in 1930 with the fundamental goal of ensuring the “dissemination of knowledge of physics, particularly by way of teaching.” Founders Homer L. Dodge, Paul E. Klopsteg, and William S. Webb led the effort to organize the first association dedicated to improving physics education. Today, that vision is supported by members around the world.

The AAPT Executive Board offers the AAPT Barbara Lotze Scholarship for future high school physics teachers. These scholarships are supported by an endowment funded by Barbara Lotze. Applicants must declare their intent to prepare for and engage in a career in physics teaching at the high school level

Who is eligible to apply for the AAPT Barbara Lotze Scholarship?

- an undergraduate student enrolled in an accredited two-year college, four-year college or a university; or a high school senior accepted for such enrollment.
- pursuing, or planning to pursue, a course of study leading toward a career in physics teaching in the high schools.
- showing promise of success in their studies, and
- a citizen of the United States of America.

How much is the AAPT Barbara Lotze Scholarship worth?

Successful applicants receive a stipend of up to $2,000 and a complimentary AAPT Student Membership for one year. The scholarship may be granted to an individual for each of four years.

When is the application due?

Applications in which all materials, including letters of recommendation must be received by December 1, 2019 for consideration at the winter meeting of the AAPT Executive Board.

Best of luck to all applicants!

American University of Antigua (AUA) College of Medicine

American University of Antigua (AUA) College of Medicine is one of the top medical schools in the Caribbean. AUA College of Medicine boasts a U.S.-modeled curriculum, cutting-edge facilities, and an expansive network of clinical affiliates. A holistic admissions policy means we do not measure an applicant's potential to succeed solely by his or her MCAT score.

AUA is 1 of only 3 Caribbean medical schools to be approved by the New York and Florida State Education Departments, recognized by the Medical Boards of California and India, and accredited by CAAM-HP. This allows clinical students to obtain clerkships and graduates to earn licensure throughout the U.S., Canada, and India. AUA is also one of the few Caribbean medical schools that offer U.S. Federal Direct Loan Programs as well as Canadian federal and provincial loans.

BigRentz Trade School Scholarship

The BigRentz Trade School scholarship was launched to support students who are pursuing a career in a skilled profession.

Introduction:

There is a widening skills gap, yet high demand for highly-skilled and well-trained workers among various trades. However, a recent BigRentz survey revealed there is an inaccurate view of trade schools and the earning potential of a skilled trade.

As an advocate of vocational education and to promote the advantages of a skilled trade, BigRentz is pleased to offer $10,000 in scholarships to students pursuing a career in skilled trades.

BigRentz will award $5,000 to two students to help cover educational expenses for a student currently pursuing (or who is planning to pursue) vocational training. Below you will learn how to enter the contest as well as the scholarship rules.

About BigRentz:

BigRentz is a technology-enabling, equipment rental logistics company that uses a network of supplier relationships to find the best rental and transportation solutions for its customers. Since 2012, BigRentz has focused on pairing technology with construction rentals to build the nation's largest equipment rental network that supports a more accessible and more efficient rental process.

Data Science and Analytics Research Fellowship

APPLICATION DEADLINE: December 17, 2019 3:00PM ET

<https://www.zintellect.com/Opportunity/Details/NIH-NIAID-2020-0002>

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling-basis.

As a Research Participant in the NIAID Data Analytics and Research Branch (DARB), the participant will receive training and hands-on-experience in applying and managing data and portfolio analysis strategies and learning about NIH and bibliometric databases and tool development to manage programs in infectious, immunological, and allergic diseases. Appointments will be for one year, with a second-year option. The program is within NIAID DARB and the participant will have opportunity to interact and build relationships with NIAID extramural and intramural Divisions and NIAID leadership. NIAID actively encourages fellows to partake in a variety of developmental assignments during their fellowship to broaden their perspectives on NIAID and NIH's missions, strengthen managerial and technical competencies, develop a broad understanding of NIAID's data needs from a variety of views, and further develop leadership abilities. In addition to a stipend, Research Participants will be provided with a travel and training allowance and a health insurance allowance.

NIAID is a $5.5 billion research organization whose mission is to conduct and support basic and applied research to better understand, treat, and ultimately prevent infectious, immunologic, and allergic diseases. The scope and complexity of NIAID operations have expanded dramatically in recent years to respond to emerging and immediate health challenges, and to meet the urgent mandates of the Executive and Legislative Branches. The planning, development, and evaluation of these independent research areas are done as part of a total integrated process, cutting across all mission areas and budgets to collaboratively identify and weigh program priorities, emerging requirements and opportunities and research constraints to meet NIAID expanding mission objectives.

DARB provides robust data and portfolio analytical capabilities for data-driven decision making; performs short-and long-term portfolio analyses informed by analytical and data science research methodologies; The fellow will have the opportunity to learn about NIH grant and bibliometric data, evaluate robustness tools developed at DARB and learn how to carry out in-depth data analysis that informs NIAID leadership. The fellow will also have the opportunity to learn about developing tools and applications for data mining, curation, manipulation, verification, cleansing, analysis, and visualization; provides training on data and portfolio analysis tools and methodologies; consult with program and other staff to produce portfolio analyses; provide interpretations of data and portfolio analysis results; disseminate findings, tools, data, etc. as appropriate. The fellow will have the opportunity to build relationship with NIAID Office of Data Science and Emerging Technologies and interact with counterparts and leadership in the Office of Extramural Research (OER) and the Office of Portfolio Analysis (OPA), and the NIH Institutes.

Appointments are typically made for one year and are renewable for a total of two years. Stipend rates are established and non-negotiable. Stipends are reported to the U.S. Internal Revenue Service as fellowship awards however, no federal income taxes will be withheld. Stipends are paid monthly.

1st year stipend rate: $67,600, $74,880, or $85,020 annually (commensurate with education and experience).

2nd year stipend rate: $70,304, $77,785, or $88,421 annually (commensurate with education and experience)

100% of health insurance premiums are covered for individuals or families, as appropriate.

An annual travel ($3,500) and training ($2,500) allowance is established for each participant for a total of $6,000 annually. Travel and training funds are interchangeable as necessary.

Qualifications

The qualified candidate must have received a bachelor's, master's or doctoral degree in one of the relevant fields. Degree must have been received within five years of the appointment start date. Current students who are close to completing their degrees may apply but must have completed their degrees by the start of the fellowship.

Preferred skills:

- Experience in biological research, science management, data science, bioinformatics, or other biocomputational fields
- Experience in R, Python or other data science tools
- Excellent critical thinking and analytical skills, including exceptional attention to detail
- Experience with statistical methods
- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- Strong interpersonal skills and an ability to collaborate with staff at all levels

This opportunity is available to U.S. citizens only.

The May Firm Bi-Annual Scholarship Fund

At The May Firm, we understand the importance of an education and just how difficult it can be to finance college these days. Robert May, our founding attorney here at The May Firm, was the first in his family to attend college! He's incredibly appreciative of the opportunity he had to attend Cal Poly San Luis Obispo for his undergraduate degree, then moving on to law school. As we all know, the cost of obtaining a higher education keeps rising, which can often times put students in a tough situation, both mentally and financially.

WE'RE OFFERING A BI-ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIP IN THE AMOUNT OF $1,000

Our goal is to provide students with assistance in obtaining a higher education and taking some of the financial burden off of hard working students. The scholarships deadline for each applicant to apply will be September 15th and January 15th of each year.

The scholarship will be provided to a student enrolled at either a Community College or University. Winners to announced September 20th and January 20th! Announcements will be posted on our Facebook page.

The 300 word minimum essay.

Applicants should respond to the question: What Would Really Make Drivers Stop Texting While Driving (TWD)?

Attached to your essay, please include a copy of your resume including current GPA as well as what University or community college you are attending.

Essay Topic 1: The Changing Landscape of Business Communications

Business communication technology has evolved tremendously in recent years, and leverages the connective power of the internet to provide companies with robust communication services that are key to business growth. As a result, many companies are switching from their legacy landline phone system to the more convenient and VoIP Phone Systems now offered for businesses of every size and stage of growth.

The revolution of business communication tools is only expected to continue. In this essay topic, we want you to explore the changing landscape of business communications and explain how VoIP software will continue to evolve over the next 5 years.

Essay Topic 2: How Can Small Businesses Benefit from CRM Software?

Customer Relationship Management (CRM) software has been revolutionizing how companies gather, store, and track valuable customer data for well over a decade. Each year the technology continues to become more powerful, user-friendly, and affordable for companies in every stage of growth. CRM solutions are quickly becoming a business software must-have for organizations of all sizes, and many companies are even implementing them much earlier in their development than ever before.

In this essay, we'd like you to explain all the benefits that a small company can achieve by implementing a CRM system early on in their business.

Essay Guidelines and Submission Instructions:

1. Write a 750 to 1,000 word essay on one of the two topics provided above.
2. Linking instructions. Include a couple of links to the Wheelhouse page in your essay, hyperlinked under text relevant to either the VoIP page (for Topic 1) or the CRM page (for Topic 2). We've linked to our page in the essay topics above as an example.
3. Post your essay on your blog, website, or social channels.
4. To submit your essay, send the link (or links) where we can access your essay for consideration to scholarships@wheelhouse.com

Good luck to everyone! We look forward to reading your essays, and awarding 3 winners with a scholarship!

REMEMBER: You have until November 29, 2019 to submit your essay, and the winners of the Wheelhouse Scholarship will be announced on December 16, 2019.
