TRIBAL LEADERS

The mission of the Poarch Band of Creek Indians is to protect our inherent rights as a sovereign American Indian Tribe, promote our culture and beliefs, to help our Tribal Members achieve their highest potential, maintain good relations with other Indian tribes and units of government, acquire, develop and conserve resources to achieve economic and social self-sufficiency, and ensure that our people live in peace and harmony among themselves and with others.

We bring a reservoir of expert knowledge to secure the health, education and well-being of all Tribal Members today and in the future. We act as role models who go beyond the call of duty and leaders who instill confidence in the fairness and wisdom of government decisions and actions.

FEDERAL ACKNOWLEDGMENT FINDINGS ON THE NEW ONLINE ARCHIVES

“We acknowledge that the Poarch Band of Creeks be acknowledged as an Indian tribe with a government-to-government relationship with the United States and be entitled to the same privileges and immunities available to other federally recognized tribes by virtue of their status as Indian tribes.”

After over a decade of hard labor by our Tribal leaders and supporters in the quest for federal recognition, the Bureau of Indian Affairs finally issued these words on December 29, 1983. These words begin the memorandum referred to as the findings of our Federal Recognition Petition which led to the Tribe’s Federal Acknowledgment the following year on August 11, 1984. The findings are on display in an exhibit at our Tribal museum, Kerretv en Cuko.

Our team of records warriors at the Office of Archives and Records Management is excited to inform you that you can now access the findings on our new Online Archives. We are making these records available to all because our Tribal sovereignty rests on these important documents. Please see link below:

pbciarchives.org

Our Digital Archivist, Mr. Chad Parker, oversees the Online Archives. Do you have Creek documents in your personal collection that you would like to see posted on the Online Archives? If so, please contact Mr. Parker at (251) 446-4965. You could see your own documents shared on the Online Archives for all to access. Mvto.

IN REPLY REFER TO:

Tribal Government Services-FA

DEC 29 1983

MEMORANDUM

To: Assistant Secretary - Indian Affairs
From: Deputy Assistant Secretary - Indian Affairs (Operations)
Subject: Recommendation and summary of evidence for proposed finding for Federal acknowledgment of the Poarch Band of Creeks of Alabama pursuant to 25 CFR 83.

RECOMMENDATION

We recommend that the Poarch Band of Creeks be acknowledged as an Indian tribe with a government-to-government relationship with the United States and be entitled to the same privileges and immunities available to other federally recognized tribes by virtue of their status as Indian tribes.

GENERAL CONCLUSIONS

The contemporary Poarch Band of Creeks is a successor of the Creek Nation of Alabama prior to its removal to Indian Territory. The Creek Nation has a documented history back to 1540. Ancestors of the Poarch Band of Creeks began as an autonomous town of half-bloods in the late 1700's with a continuing political connection to the Creek Nation. The Poarch Band remained in Alabama after the Creek Removal of the 1830's, and shifted within a small geographic area until it settled permanently near present-day Atmore, Alabama.

The Band has existed as a distinct political unit since before the Creek War of 1813-14. It was governed by a succession of military leaders and prominent men in the 19th century. From the late 1800's through 1950, leadership was clear but informal. A formal leader was elected in 1950.

The group's bylaws describe how membership is determined and how the group governs its affairs and its members. Virtually all of the Band's 1,470 members can document descendency from the historic Creek Nation and appear to meet the group's membership requirements. No evidence was found that the members of the Poarch Band of Creeks are members of any other Indian tribes or that the tribe or its members have been terminated or forbidden the Federal relationship by an Act of Congress.

4TH OF JULY!

★ The Fourth of July is a national holiday in the United States that celebrates the country's independence. Here are some popular activities that people do on this day:

Watch Fireworks: One of the most popular activities on the Fourth of July is watching fireworks displays. Many cities and towns have their own firework shows, but there are also private shows that people put on in their backyards.

BBQ and Picnic: Another popular activity is having a BBQ or picnic with family and friends. People often grill burgers, hot dogs, and other meats, and enjoy a variety of sides and desserts.

Attend Parades: Many cities and towns host Fourth of July parades with floats, bands, and other entertainment. It's a great way to get out and enjoy the festivities with your community.

Attend Concerts and Festivals: Some cities host outdoor concerts and festivals on the Fourth of July. These events often feature live music, food vendors, and other fun activities.

Sporting Events: The Fourth of July is a popular day for sporting events like baseball games, bike races, and running races.

Beach Day: For those who live near the coast, spending the day at the beach is a popular activity on the Fourth of July. People often bring a picnic and enjoy the sun, sand, and surf.

Patriotic Crafts: Some families like to get creative and make patriotic crafts like flags, t-shirts, and decorations to display at home.

★ Overall, the Fourth of July is a day to celebrate with family and friends and enjoy the many festivities that the day has to offer.

NATIONAL DAY of PRAYER

The National Day of Prayer is an annual observance in the United States that brings together people from different religious backgrounds to engage in prayer and spiritual reflection. This day serves as a unifying force, encouraging individuals and communities to set aside their differences and come together in a collective act of faith. The National Day of Prayer, which has a rich history dating back to the founding of the nation, continues to hold significance in modern times, promoting unity, gratitude, and interfaith dialogue.

KEEP OUR BEACHES CLEAN!

Keeping our beaches clean is essential to preserving the beauty and health of our oceans and marine life. Here are some tips on how we can all contribute to this effort:

BRING YOUR TRASH WITH YOU

Make sure you remove all trash when leaving the beach, including food wrappers, bottles, cans, straws, and anything else you may have brought with you. Don't leave anything behind.

USE RECYCLING BINS

If the beach has recycling bins, make sure you use them properly. Separate your recyclables from your trash, and place them in the appropriate bin.

DON'T LITTER

If you see others littering, politely encourage them to pick up their trash. Always dispose of any trash you create or find, regardless of who left it. Small actions can make a big difference.

MIND THE CIGARETTE BUTTS

Cigarette butts are one of the most common forms of litter found on beaches today. Properly dispose of your cigarette butts in a designated container.

Many organizations host beach cleanups, and they're always in need of volunteers. Check with local environmental groups or beach associations to find out how you can help.

Remember, keeping our beaches clean is everyone's responsibility. By doing your part, you're helping to protect our oceans and the animals that call them home.

LORI STINSON INDUCTED INTO THE PRESTIGIOUS ATMORE AREA HALL OF FAME

(May 23, 2023 - Atmore, Alabama) This May, Lori Stinson, Attorney General and Chief Legal Officer for the Poarch Band of Creek Indians, was one of 12 Atmoreans inducted into the Atmore Area Hall of Fame. The Hall of Fame, which began in 2005, recognizes individuals who have made outstanding contributions in the fields of: business/medicine; government/military; education/theatrical/ministry; and athletics.

Stinson was selected because of her superior competence and professionalism, being a positive role model, and the significant contributions she has made to the betterment of the community.

"I am very humbled and honored to be included in the same category as the other recipients, both past and present, including seven other amazing Tribal Members," said Stinson.

Stinson grew up in Atmore and has made it her home most of her adult life. She graduated from Escambia Academy in 1995 as valedictorian of her class. After high school, she attended Samford University and graduated summa cum laude in 1995. While at Samford, Stinson lettered in varsity tennis and was inducted into numerous honor societies.

While in college, she worked for local attorneys, Robert H. Maxwell and Shirley D. Darby, during her breaks from school. "Mr. Maxwell and Ms. Darby not only introduced me to the practice of law, but they inspired me to pursue it as a career," she said. Stinson attended Thomas Goode Jones School of Law, where she graduated at the top of her class in 2003.

Stinson met her husband, Brad, in law school, and they practiced together in Enterprise until 2007, when Stinson came home and began working for the Tribe, in the in-house legal department.

In January 2014, Stinson was hired as the Attorney General for the Tribe. As AG, she leads the enrollment department and a team of in-house attorneys who provide legal services and representation to the Tribe, the Tribal Council, and all the Tribe's entities, including Tribal Government, PCI Gaming Authority (d/b/a Wind Creek Hospitality), and Creek Indian Enterprises Development Authority. Being AG has given her opportunities to testify before a Congressional committee on behalf of the Tribe; draft Tribal, state, and federal legislation; assist with the Tribe's litigation; and manage the Tribe's appellate issues in Tribal, state, and federal courts, including the United States Supreme Court. Stinson is most proud of the role she has played in protecting her Tribe's lands and sovereignty.

“Lori Stinson is an incredible asset to the Poarch Band of Creek Indians, not only in her professional capacity as our Attorney General, but on a personal level as well,” remarked Poarch Band of Creek Indians Tribal Chair & CEO, Stephanie A. Bryan.

Stinson is a Member of the Poarch Band of Creek Indians, First Baptist Church of Atmore, the Atmore Planning Commission, the Atmore Historical Preservation Commission, the Alabama

Anti-Human Trafficking Alliance Task Force, Main Street Atmore's Economic Vitality Committee, and United Bank's Escambia County Advisory Board. She is a 2000 graduate of Leadership Atmore and is currently in Leadership Alabama's Class of XXXII.

Bryan went on to say, “Lori is a wonderful mother, friend, and role model to our younger generations. She is a Tribal Member who grew up in Atmore and chose to come home after law school and give back to our community. Lori is a selfless person who works tirelessly to protect our Tribe's sovereignty and she leads a team deeply committed to our long-term security and prosperity. Our Tribe is blessed to have Lori Stinson as a Member and we congratulate her on this great and well-deserved honor.”

Stinson is the widow of Brad Stinson. She has two daughters, Bradleigh Anne and Bailey Catherine, and is the daughter of Billy Conn and Shirley Madison.
